

i3S Scientific Platforms Acknowledgements

i3S Scientific Platforms are dynamic and continuously developing facilities that support i3S research. Acknowledging the Scientific Platforms in your publications and presentations will demonstrate their involvement in research and ultimately contribute to the upgrade and modernization of the current facilities.

Whenever you use resources (equipment or technical support) from i3S Scientific Platforms you should acknowledge their contribution by using one of the following expressions, or similar, always referring “i3S Scientific Platform”:

“The authors acknowledge the support of the XXX i3S Scientific Platform”

“YY technique was performed at the XXX i3S Scientific Platform with the assistance of...”

If members of the i3S Scientific Platforms also provided significant intellectual contribution to the study, “i3S Authorship guidelines” apply.
